Protection from Potentially Unwanted Software: Your Acknowledgments.

“Spyware” means any application or software that makes any change to user’s computer, collects information about user’s computer activities and/or transmits collected information to a third party, or subverts computer's operation otherwise for the benefit of a third party without the user’s informed consent (i.e. consent upon an appreciation and understanding of the facts and implications of any actions). Spyware includes but is not limited to applications or software that perform without user’s knowledge and consent such behaviors as advertising, collecting personal information, changing the configuration of user’s computer, Web browser's home page or search page settings, inserting additional components to user’s Web browser, or transmitting information about traffic between Web server and a user to third parties.

“Adware” means any application or software in which advertisements or other marketing material are included with or automatically loaded by such application or software and displayed or played back after installation or in which information about the computer or its users activities is uploaded automatically when the user has not requested it.

Upon installation, Software will search Your computer for Spyware, Adware and other potentially unwanted software ("Potentially Unwanted Software"). If Software finds Potentially Unwanted Software, Software will ask You if You want to retain or remove the program(s). You have the ultimate choice whether Software will remove or disable Potentially Unwanted Software from Your computer. By accepting this Agreement and installing Software, You acknowledge that You are responsible for making the decision to remove Potentially Unwanted Software from Your computer. If You do not want this responsibility to remove Potentially Unwanted Software from Your computer, do not accept this Agreement and do not install Software.

You or someone You share Your computer with may have installed computer software or a software application that is packaged with or contains software that Software considers to be Potentially Unwanted Software. You understand that You have the ultimate choice whether Software will remove or disable Potentially Unwanted Software. Removing or disabling the Potentially Unwanted Software may cause other software on Your computer to stop working, and it may cause You to breach a license to use other software on Your computer, if the other software installed the Potentially Unwanted Software on Your computer as a condition of Your use of the other software. You should read the license agreements for other software before authorizing the removal of any Potentially Unwanted Software. By using Software, it is possible that You will also remove or disable software that is not Potentially Unwanted Software. You acknowledge that Your use of the Software may remove or disable other programs from Your computer, including software that may or may not be Spyware. You understand that You can choose which programs to remove or disable, and You agree that neither the Company nor its licensors and suppliers shall be responsible for such removal or disabling or the results of such removal or disabling. You are solely responsible for selecting which programs the Software removes from Your computer. While Company uses reasonable efforts to properly identify those products detected by the Software, and regularly update its list of such products, Company and Agnitum Ltd. cannot guarantee that its list is complete or completely accurate. Because new and/or modified Spyware and Potentially Unwanted Software are regularly introduced, You should make sure You receive updates to the Software to detect those new products added when updates to the Software are provided.

Disclaimer of liability: Regardless of whether any remedy set forth herein fails of its essential purpose or otherwise, in no event will Company, Agnitum Ltd., their suppliers and licensors be liable to You or to any third party for any lost profits, lost data, interruption of business, or other special, indirect, incidental or consequential damages of any kind arising out of or in connection with removal or disabling of any Potentially Unwanted Software or any other programs from Your computer by Software or the results of such removal or disabling, even if Company and/or Agnitum Ltd. and/or their suppliers and licensors have been advised of the possibility of such loss or damages and whether or not such loss or damages are foreseeable.

All disputes arising from the present license agreement shall be considered by the competent court in the United Kingdom, provided that Company may also initiate proceedings in the courts of the country, where You are domiciled and/or residing. If you are domiciled with the European Economic Area, the jurisdiction for disputes may be as provided by Treaty, Convention or European Union regulation.

Export. You agree that You will not export or re-export the Software outside of the jurisdiction in which You obtained it without the appropriate government licenses.
